Instructions: This is an extension of the Lab Assignment 3. You have to show the demo to the TA and submit the codes in a tgz file with name labAssign4.tgz. The submission date is 15.02.2015.

1. Implement group chats in your chat client. Group chat means a set of users can join a chat group and chat simultaneously with each other. A user sending a message must be displayed in the chat window of all other users in the group. However, your objective should be to ensure that the number of messages passed by the systems is as less as possible.
